VOLUME 98—NUMBER 17

LEADING THE PARADE—The Cameron Saddle Club's covered wagon led club riders Friday in the downtown parade that kicked off the most successful horse show in the three-year history of the event. Officials said that almost 200 outstanding entries in the quarterhorse show caused judges to praise the Cameron show as one of the best in Texas. Here riders approach the turn at North Central and East First St. Thousands of countians packed Cameron for the parade.

41 County Entries Win, Place In Cameron Saddle Club Show

Show Officials Term Turnout Outstanding

Thirty Cameron Saddle Club entries won or placed in the Shetland and halter classes Friday night while 11 Milam Countians took honors in Cameron's largest quarter horse show Saturday.

Coleman Duncum, saddle club president, said that show officials and judges rated the quarter horse show one of the best in Texas.

They considered the quality of entries from three states and the nearly 200 entries the best seen in Texas including major shows at Fort Worth and San Antonio, Duncum said.

Eighty-two were counted in the shetland and halter competition at Yoe Field Friday night. A good crowd, said Duncum, filled most of the south-side bleachers to watch the show.

Park Crowded

But Saturday morning, Wilson Ledbetter park was overflowing with contestants from Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma for the quarter horse show.

The show Friday night was touched off by a street parade in downtown Cameron that attracted a city-full of on-lookers.

Units from saddle clubs from Rockdale, Moody and other nearby cities rode through behind the host Cameron club 'Dealers' cars, a miniature stage coach pulled by a shetland team and city vehicles followed.

Other vehicles included the Farm Bureau queen's car, the fire engine, police car and other cars. Local saddle club members were jubilant over the big turnout of outstanding riders and horses in the quarter horse show.

Best In Club History

It was the biggest show in history here, they said, practically dwarfing the first two.

"We would have been swamped if we had not been ready for this one," Duncum said. "And we were almost overrun anyway."

Spectator attendance at the parade and quarter horse show was outstanding, he continued. But the crowd was smaller at the Friday night showing in Yoe Field.

Top winners in the quarter horse competition all were from out of town.

Evedale Horse Wins

Grand champion stallion was King Solomon, owned by O. D. Adams, Evedale. The reserve champion was Judy's Concho, owned by Dr. Jerry Miller, Waco. The grand champion mare was

Jaycees Planning Bonfire-Rally

Cameron Jaycees Monday night made preliminary plans for a bonfire rally and parade to precede their scheduled Yoean booster train trip to the Brenham football game Sept. 20.

President Don Humble appointed committees to contact some leading college band units, city school and civic authorities and school students for the proposed bonfire rally Sept. 19 here.

The Junior Chamber early this spring arranged for a special train to Brenham for the second year. The school board two weeks ago voted to send the YHS band on the train.

Plan Big Rally

Humble said Jaycees hoped to arrange a rousing rally for Yoe High School gridders complete with bands, bonfire and cheering section. Jaycees have not yet selected a site for the rally, he pointed out.

Jaycees Jimmy Wiggs and Dr. George Bowman were appointed to contact officials at area military posts and at Texas A&M and University of Texas to see if units from their bands could attend.

Humble called on progress reports on the downtown parade and rally plans at a director's meeting Monday at the Magnolia House.

In other business the Jaycees discussed plans for the second annual Santa Pals project.

Warehouse Needed
Henry Schattle, project chairman, told the group that a warehouse was still needed in which to store and repair toys donated or collected by Jaycees for the Christmas project.

President Humble called for an August 1 starting date on the program for an early start this year. Jaycees said last year the project brought toys and presents to dozens of families in the area who otherwise would have had no Christmas.

Plans also were discussed about projects to raise funds for Christmas decorations and Santa Pals this fall.

Cotton Continues To Hold Up Well In Hot Weather

Cotton continues to hold up well under the extremely hot weather, County Agent J. D. Moore says.

Farmers who have access to water are irrigating their cotton. But the boll worm at present is a more serious threat to the cotton crop than the weather.

Some cotton fields continue to be attacked by the cotton flea hopper while leaf worms are being found in most all fields, but numbers have not been sufficient to justify control measures.

Early corn is maturing fast he says and harvest is likely to start on the quick maturing land around August 1 to 10. Late corn is having a battle with the army worms as well as the weather. If a good rain comes, the late corn could make a fair crop.

The early planted maize looks good and is maturing fast. Harvest will not get into full swing until the last week in July or the first week of August.

Early maize lost to overflows on some of our best land will cut our over-all county yield unless more favorable conditions occur for un-expected yields from the late planted maize.

There will be enough hay produced in the county to feed the livestock Moore continues. Late summer rains would brighten the prospects for additional hay crops.

The watermelon crop will be below normal due to unfavorable conditions early in the season. Sweet potatoes and peanuts would benefit from a good rain. The cantaloupe crop came through fairly well due to favorable market conditions.

Tomatoes were disappointing to growers this year. Conditions were unfavorable throughout the season for tomato production.

Rev. John Solomon To Take Pastorate Of Houston Church

The Rev. John C. Solomon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Thursday told The Herald that he will accept a call to the pastorate of the Third Presbyterian Church, Houston.

He said he will ask church congregation approval for his move to the Houston church following regular Sunday morning services, Sunday, August 4.

No successor has been named. Rev. and Mrs. Solomon have been at First Presbyterian church since January, 1951. They previously had been with the Cameron congregation from 1942 to 1945.

Rev. Solomon went to the Albermarle Presbytery for three years of mission work before returning to Cameron.

He said the Houston church has a congregation of about 400 members.

The Solomons' son, Johnny, a 1957 graduate of Yoe High School will attend Austin College this fall on a scholarship.

Rev. Solomon also announced that Dr. Robert F. Gribble, professor of Old Testament languages at Austin Theological Seminary, will deliver the sermon Sunday. He will speak on "Paul's Great Mistake."

3 Cameron Men Named To Posts Of ET Chamber

Three Cameron businessmen have been named to committees of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to James M. Windham, president.

Charlie Burke, manager of Lone Star Gas Co., is a member of the Water Conservation committee while E. A. Perrin, consignee for Texas Co., was named to the Mineral Resources committee. Third appointment went to Rollan J. Carr, manager of Ridge Farms on the Agriculture committee.

"The membership of the twelve standing committees is chosen from among leading businessmen over a 71-county area and Caddo Parish, Louisiana, and there will be approximately 500 East Texas leaders serving on all twelve committees," Windham stated.

"These committee members, together with the committee chairmen and the board of directors, will direct and carry out the varied activities of the organization, whose purpose is building a better area and insuring a more stable business climate for industry and agriculture," Windham concluded.

Committee chairmen will announce the dates of the initial committee meetings in the near future.

Chamber, Herald Salute Trio

CofC Cites Evans, Mann, Jackson

The Cameron Chamber of Commerce and The Herald join in saluting three men this week who have been instrumental in making summer Little League and Pony League baseball a big success here—Dr. Gus Evans, Jr., Wayne Mann and Coach Leo Jackson.

Directors selected the trio as Cameron's citizens of the month two weeks ago.

Dr. Evans is president of Little League here while Mann is president of the Pony League. Jackson, high school athletic director, heads the city schools summer athletic program.

Credit Co-Workers

All three men are quick to give credit for the highly successful summer baseball program to league managers and officers who have worked with them. The Little League has four teams this year while the newly organized Pony League has two city teams and now a third in Rosebud.

Dr. Evans, 40, has three children and is in business with his father as optometrist but still finds time to help Niley Smith, Jr., coach the LL Yankees. His son, Clifford, plays on the team.

He is also member of the Board of Stewards, First Methodist Church, the Jaycees, a director in the Cameron Country Club, a Mason, and first vice-president of the Texas Optometrists Association.

Working with Dr. Evans this year as LL officers are Smith, vice-president; Bill Crockett, secretary-treasurer; and Mann, chairman of the sponsorship committee.

Mann Boosts Pony League

Mann, busy in both leagues, boosted Cameromites to start the new Pony League and found sponsors for the teams in the Cameron Rotary Club and the IOOF. Then his group went to Rosebud to start a third team to round out competition.

The 41-year-old work unit conservationist with SCS also has three children including Robert, 13, who plays in the league.

And like Dr. Evans it's a wonder he found time to work both in LL and Pony league organization. He is a member of the First Baptist Church where he is superintendent of the Young Married People's Sunday School, past commander of the American Legion, present chairman of the state agriculture committee of the Legion, and past cub master for Cub Scouts.

Salutes LL Officers

Many laurels go to the following men, says Mann, for helping get the Pony League off to a good season: Edison Fikes, vice-president; Paul Dillon, secretary-treasurer; Pete Miller, Rotary Cats manager; Clifford Swift and Raymond Tepera, assistants; Tom Woods, Colts manager; Archie Mraz, assistant.

Working hand in hand with the other two citizens of the month has been busy Leo Jackson, recreation director for Cameron public schools for 10 years.

For 20 years a high school coach in Texas, Jackson worked Pony and LL baseball programs together with officials for the games at Yoe Field.

He assisted Mann in getting sponsors for the Pony League and Dr. Evans in the Little League with rules interpretations and assistance at the field.

His efforts have blended the two programs into full schedule of other summer recreation activities.

Member of Rotary

He is a member of the Cameron Rotary Club, a Mason, deacon of the First Baptist Church where he teaches the Professional Men's Bible Class, past director of the Texas High School Coaches Association, member of the United Press Coaches Board.

Jackson is married and has a daughter, Myrna Gail, 17, in the Yoe High School senior class.

All three men look forward to even bigger years for the Little League and Pony League programs. Much of the future of the programs has been assured by their work this year.

Let's Boost Scouting

Cameron has a scout executive in her midst. And Cameron can do much to help him and Girl Scout leaders in organizing a strong scouting movement here. Toughest problem facing Cub, Boy and Girl Scouting here is adult leadership, officials say. Little doubt about it, a city the size of Cameron could have more troops than now in operation.

Just a few weeks ago Mrs. Dana Monroe, director of organization, announced a training program set to start August 20 for adult leaders. She emphasized the dire need for applicants.

Burt Kennedy, new Milam and Falls County Scout executive, also noted the need for adult leadership in the Cameron area.

The Rev. George Duda, pastor of St. Monica's Catholic Church, is very active in Scouting here. He is on his way to the World Jubilee in England this week. And the Kiwanis Club has recently taken over a local Boy Scout Troop.

We have the key people to make Scouting a big success in Cameron. But these leaders need our help. We'll be helping our boys and girls.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Steel Goes Up. Why Not Eggs This Time, Sage Says

By J. A.

The Little River philosopher may be a little mixed up this week, but that's his lookout, not ours.—Ed.)

Dear editor: The trouble with inflation is that not enough people understand it fully enough.

I had noticed in a copy of a newspaper which a neighbor of mine brought me a mess of fish in — for your information it wasn't a copy of your paper, as this one had a fishy smell — that the price of steel had recently gone up $8 a ton, which clearly indicated the steel industry has let its newspaper subscription expire, as President Eisenhower only the day before had asked business to hold prices down voluntarily, and as a result a lot of other things were automatically going up.

For example, naturally the watch manufacturers, on hearing the price of steel had gone up, will figure they ought to go up on the price of watches, as everybody knows the steel spring in a watch is made of steel, even if it doesn't weigh over an ounce.

Plow points, tractors, cars, pick ups, naturally will require an increase in price, to offset the rise in the price of steel, and so I decided what was good for industry was good for me. Consequently, when I took a dozen eggs into town yesterday to sell, I told the store I'd have to have five cents more.

"How come?" the store owner asked.

"Don't you read your newspaper?" It's on account of the increase in the price of steel," I explained.

Now here's the rub. Instead of nodding his head in agreement and saying there didn't seem to be any way around it, he just laughed. You could see he didn't have any full understanding of inflation and the upward price spiral.

"Don't believe I'd be interested," he said.

"But my costs are going up and I've got to have more money for these eggs."

"Don't believe I'd be interested," he said, and turned around to wait on another customer.

Now I could have outwaited him, but from long experience I knew the eggs couldn't, so I sold them at his price and came on home.

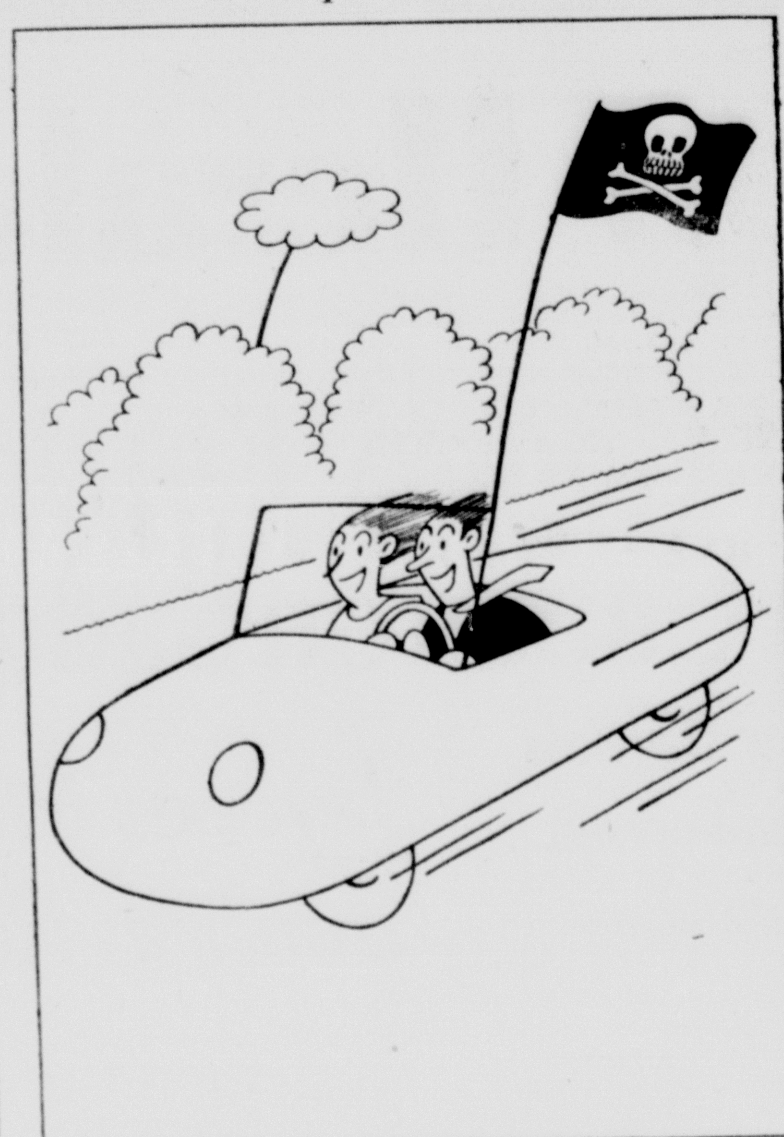

It's the people who don't understand inflation that's causing this country so much trouble. I don't mind paying $8 a ton more for steel if somebody will recognize I ought to get more for eggs.

There are more people than you realize who are out of tune with me and my hens.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Capitol Report Safety Dept. Faces Changes In 6 Regions

By Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association AUSTIN — A big change is forthcoming in the operation of the largest law enforcement division of the State.

In keeping with recommendations of the Texas Research League, following a two-year study, the Texas Department of Public Safety will reorganize into six commands. Each command will be responsible to the central office in Austin.

Headquarters of the six regions will be in Lubbock, Corpus Christi, Waco, Houston, Dallas and Midland. Two Highway Patrol districts will be within each command.

Col. Homer Garrison will continue in the Austin office, in overall charge, with the rank of major.

In addition to the regional reorganization, the new plan calls for four central divisions in Austin. Identification and intelligence services will be in charge of Chief Joel Tisdale. Motor vehicle records and services will be handled by Chief A. F. Temple. Personnel and staff services will be directed by Chief Glen McLaughlin. And in inspection and planning will be headed by Chief G. W. Busby.

TO DAM OR NOT TO DAM

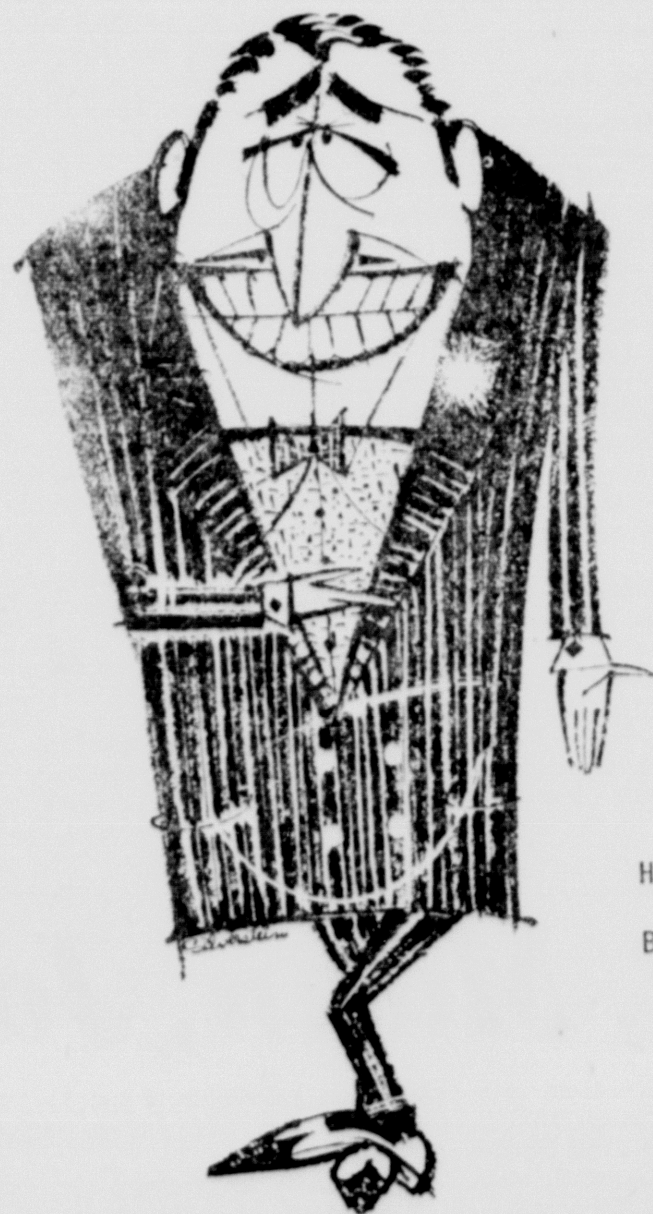

A slice of the sort of troubles that plague Texas water development planning is shown in the current problems of the Brazos River Authority.

At Gov. Price Daniel's request, BRA directors held a statewide conference in Austin. Purpose: to reconcile the numerous conflicting views on how best to use the waters of the 1300-mile stream. Scores of people came and spoke their minds, but reconciliation was hard to find.

BRA directors suggest a six-dam program on the Brazos. It would include raising the level of Possum Kingdom Dam and constructing six more dams between it and Whitney Dam. Cost is estimated at $183,000,000.

Nicarbazin Controls Coccidiosis

Egg producers are cautioned by Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, that nicarbazin should not be used to control coccidiosis in laying flocks. Repeated tests have shown that it drastically reduces egg production and has other effects which are undesirable.

A traveling salesman was Harry G. Blowe,

Who could sell ice cubes to an eskimo,

But he fell for a line slicker than his,

From a new car salesman—wow! what a whiz!

The car had style—years out of date,

The features were new—back in '48!

Harry's still smiling, the tears hardly show,

But how he wishes he could get back his dough!

Moral: Don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features!

Like a lot of people, Harry was looking for a "good buy" in a new car. But no car is a bargain if it's outmoded before you drive it a mile. For the same money, Harry could have stepped up to a dashing Swept-Wing Dodge—so new it actually obsoletes other cars in its field. Obsoletes their high, boxy design with the low, low look of tomorrow. Obsoletes their old-fashioned features with such advances as Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't do what Harry did—please. See your Dodge dealer today.

Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge!

A Tribute

To The Farmer

From the soil comes the sustenance of the world. From the hard working man who tills the soil comes the fruits of Nature in bountiful array. God loves the Farmer, someone has said, because he is in such close communion with the good earth. He plows it. He plants it. He worries over it. And lo, then his smiling fields are lush and abundant with tassels, tomatoes and all the things we eat. Fat cows and porkers give us milk and meat. And Mrs. Farmer has chickens and turkeys for the market. Without the Farmer there would be no life or living. Let's salute his sun up to sunset existence — and be grateful for his bounty!

WE SALUTE OUR TOWN!

SAVING

YOUR SOIL

By Your Soil Conservationist

During the summer months there is usually less activity in the application of soil conservation practices than at any other time during the year.

This gives planning technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assisting soil conservation districts more time during this time of the year to give planning assistance to landowners and farm operators who are interested in getting technical assistance from their soil conservation district in planning a long-time soil and water conservation program for their farms.

A soil and water conservation plan for the farm is just like the architect's plan for a house. A sound long-time soil and water conservation plan cannot be made without first making a land inventory of the farm any more than an architect can design a house without knowing the kind of material he has available to build it with.

Soils Inventory Comes 1st

The first step in making a conservation plan for the farm is to make a land inventory or soils map of the farm. This map is made by a soil surveyor. This map shows the different kinds of soil that are present on the farm including, depth, texture and permeability, amount of erosion that has taken place and the slope of the land.

All of these factors are important in planning the conservation program for the farm. These are differences in soils just like there are differences in people. Some soils are deep and some are shallow. Some because of their texture and permeability, amount of erosion that has taken place and the slope of the land.

All of these factors are important in planning the conservation program for the farm. There are differences in people. Some soils are deep and some are shallow. Some because of their texture and permeability will absorb and hold more water for plant use than others. All of these factors need to be considered carefully when a soil and water conservation plan is made for the farm.

When a landowner requests planning assistance the land inventory or soils map is used as a guide in planning the conservation program for his farm. This map points out the strong and weak points of the land on the farm, the best land use, and what kind of crops the land is best suited for.

The procedure in farm planning is for the landowner or the farm operator and the SCS technician to walk over the farm together and with the soils map study the various conservation problems that need attention. Then they work out the conservation plan that will solve or correct the problems, and improve and maintain soil fertility.

If the landowner does not want to work out a complete conservation plan for the entire farm right from the beginning a plan can be worked out for a field or part of a field as he desires.

Order of Work Important

In applying a soil and water conservation program, the order in which conservation practices need to be applied is very important in some phases of this work. For example where the landowner desires to establish pasture on eroded land soil conditioning and soil improvement practices may need to be carried out several years before the sodding or seeding of the pasture is done.

Where terraces are to be constructed good sodded pastures or grassed waterways are needed to spill the terrace run-off water on so that no washing or erosion damage will occur. If this outlet protection is not already established then plans must be made to get this protection established before the terraces can be constructed.

These are some of the things that a complete and coordinated soil conservation plan for the entire farm will show and will serve as a guide to landowners in how best to proceed in carrying out the conservation program for their farms.

Soil Conservation Service technicians at the Rockdale work unit office and other work unit offices in the Taylor Soil Conservation District at Cameron, Taylor, Round Rock, Georgetown, and Austin are available at all times to assist landowners in planning and applying a soil and water conservation program for their farms. During the month of June 20 additional landowners with 3,699 acres of land became cooperators with the Taylor Soil Conservation District. Of these six are located in the Rockdale work unit area as follows: E. H. Christi and Giles Yoakum, Milano; Walter Fischer, R. D. Bush and W. B. Langford, Rockdale; and Fred Gant, Thorndale.

Three are located in the Cameron area; they are Bilj Wallace, Jack Dubois and D. S. Hughes.

Defoliation Guide Handy

Copies of the 1957 cotton defoliation guide for Texas are now available at the offices of county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist, says the late crop and heavy rains may make defoliation a must in many sections of the state including Milam County.

Charles Robert Russell, 69, of San Angelo, died July 8th in San Angelo.

A native of Buckholts, Mr. Russell was a retired carpenter and postal employee. His wife is the former Etta Lee Durham.

Survivors include his wife, three sons, R. T. (Bill), W. L. (Buck) and Rayborne, all of San Angelo, one daughter, Mrs. R. D. Favor of Clyde, two sisters, Mrs. W. N. Williams of Dallas and Mrs. J. A. Cryer, Cameron, and one brother, Will Russell of Lubbock. He is also survived by seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Pall bearers were James Cryer, Cameron, Garland Cranfield, Clyde, Newman Lusk, Lubbock, Russell E. and Thomas Durham of Amarillo and Billy K. Durham of San Angelo.

Farm Taxes Spiral Upward, Survey Says

College Station — Farm and ranch taxes in Texas have risen for 10 consecutive years and agricultural prices have declined for four consecutive years, almost doubling the tax load of Texas farmers and ranchmen.

L. P. Gabbard of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Tommy W. Smith of the Agricultural Research Service, USDA, made a survey that shows the average tax per acre on farm and ranch real estate in Texas last year was 31.8 cents, an increase of 8 cent, or 2.6 percent over 1955.

It is the highest average tax per acre yet reached in Texas, they pointed out.

While the average tax increased 2.6 percent for the state, it declined as much as 17.1 percent in some sections of the Rolling Plains, and increased as much as 22.4 percent in the Corpus Christi cotton producing area.

The distribution of farm real estate taxes to the various types of governmental units remains practically unchanged as public schools, including junior colleges, received 56.7 percent of the total. Farm personal property tax declined slightly, probably because of declining prices for agricultural commodities and prolonged drought.

Areas in which the average tax per acre decreased are, for the most part, devoted to grazing. This may reflect the economic stress on ranchmen because of falling cattle prices and drought conditions.

Baptist Camp Gains Members

The Milam County Baptist Association Encampment has grown to a membership this summer of 153 campers since being started in 1953, according to Mrs. Perry Holder, association president.

It has enjoyed steady growth since being reinstituted in 1953. The camp was first started in 1942 but lasted only one day, Mrs. Holder says, due to an accident. The first officers of the group in 1942 were Mrs. Earl Moseley, young people's director, and Mrs. John A. Smith, Sr., association president.

Mrs. Holder became president of the organization in 1953 while Mrs. Wells Smith became young people's director.

That year camp was held in Ledbetter Park with 54 attending. The number increased to 64 in 1954 and jumped to 85 in 1955, Mrs. Holder says. Mrs. A. E. Jones, Mrs. Alvin Heftt, Mrs. Melvin Dornier and Mrs. Holder shared responsibilities in the '55 camp held at Bastrop State Park.

In 1956 the Milam County Youth Camp was the first large encampment to use the facilities of the Highland Lakes Baptist Encampment, purchased last year by District 15 of the Southern Baptist Church.

It was the peak year prior to 1957. Mrs. A. E. Jones and Mrs. Holder directed activities for 110 campers. Mrs. Heftt and Mrs. Holder were directors this year. During the years of growth, Mrs. Holder points out, there have been many inspirational services at the three-day camp with many conversions and dedications to a Christian life.

Mrs. Holder has been president of the Women's Missionary Union Auxiliary to the Milam Baptist Association for six years. Mrs. Moseley will succeed Mrs. Holder this year.

Cotton Bollworm Marks Threat To County Crops, Agent Says

By J. D. Moore

The cotton boll worm is a serious threat to cotton crops now. The bollworm is the same worm as the corn ear worm according to County Agent J. D. Moore. When corn matures, the corn earworm drops to the ground and goes through the pupa (caterpillar) stage.

In 5 to 7 days the caterpillar turns into a moth (or butterfly). This moth is the adult that lays the eggs on the more succulent cotton leaves. These eggs are laid singly on the top of the leaves and can be seen easily. Around 5 days, these eggs will hatch into the small boll worm.

It is during the early stage that the control measures are most effective. The bollworm gets half grown in 4 to 5 days and starts eating into the larger cotton bolls. After the worms start into the bolls, control is difficult.

Inspect Cotton Regularly
Farmers are advised to inspect their cotton regularly by closely examining the leaves near the top of the stalk for the boll worm eggs. It is also advisable to open the shucks around the squares and around the base of the boll in search of boll worms. It is common for farmers to get busy doing other work and fail to find bollworm damage until it is too late. After the worms reach the large stage, damage has already occurred and control measures amount to about a salvage operation.

The boll worm can be controlled. DDT used as a spray or dust is the most effective insecticide for bollworm control. Two to 3 quarts per acre of 2 lb. per gallon strength, should be used. Toxaphene - DDT mixture is also recommended at 1½ to 2 quarts per acre.

Dusts are also effective and continue to be used by many farmers with success. 2-10-40 (2 lbs BHC, 10 lbs DDT and 40 lbs sulphur mixture) applied at the rate of 15 to 20 lbs per acre will give good control. If boll weevils are present, Dieldrin-DDT mixture will control the boll weevil as well as the boll worm.

The cause of the alarm concerning the boll worm is due to the late poisoning to control the fleas. Normally, we do not have to practice poisoning so many times to control the fleas. This late poisoning has destroyed the many beneficial insects usually present in sufficient numbers to destroy the boll worms.

TP&L President Addresses BRA In Austin Talk

If Federal or other funds are available for improving the Brazos River, the first dams should be constructed on tributaries south of Whitney Dam, W. W. Lynch, president of Texas Power & Light Company, told a public hearing in Austin July 16.

Lynch was one of several persons to express views regarding the proposed construction of a six-dam project between Possum Kingdom and Whitney Dams by the Brazos River Authority.

The open meeting was called by officials of the BRA. Both proponents and opponents of the proposed development spoke at the meeting.

"The initial projects should be on the Bosque, Leon, San Gabriel, tributaries. Projects there would provide water conservation for use in the areas involved as well as for down stream purposes," Lynch said.

The TP&L president said that the Army Engineers have stated that the six-dam project will make no contribution to flood control on the Brazos River. In this connection, however, Lynch commended the BRA in furthering the construction of the Waco Reservoir on the Bosque River.

Lynch said although the overall Six-Dam Program north of Whitney looks to be unfeasible, it appeared that the Cordova Bend Dam would have benefits that would approximate its cost. This dam has been proposed on the Brazos near Cleburne.

Regarding the electric power output of the proposed six dams, Lynch said Texas Power & Light Company has always been willing to purchase the full amount of the hydro-electric power which it can utilize and at a price which would be at least equal to the cost of such power produced at steam power plants.

Pallbearers were Jimmy Wayne Perry, Roy Lynn Rose, Howard Musick, Johnny Townley, Caleb Threet, Danny Jones, Otto Loper and Jimmy Bell, all of Corsicana.

Top Quail Season
Coming Up, Says
Game Commission

AUSTIN — Right now conditions point to the best quail season Texans have known for years, according to the Assistant Executive Secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. He has just returned from a trip through East Texas, studying first hand the effect of the hatchery program now under way.

At the same time wardens all over Texas are reporting that the quail crop this year has been exceptionally good. Favorable weather conditions and improvement of habitat by land owners gained credit for the increased crop, according to the Assistant Executive Secretary.

The Commission hatchery at Tyler has some 19,000 quail on hand to be released by clubs or individuals. More than 11,000 birds already have been released this year.

"There are still some birds available to land owners with proper feed and cover," the Assistant Executive Secretary said. These birds are sold at 50 cents each to land owners who can qualify. Applications should be sent to the Austin office of the Commission.

The state is producing three different types of quail this year. One is the North East Texas bird, for release in the East Texas area. The other is the Southwestern Bob, to be released in the more arid areas. The other is the Cornish, the new Oriental quail that is now being introduced in the state on an experimental basis.

Preinduction
Stops For 12,
Board Announces

Preinduction call for July for 12 Milam County men has been cancelled according to the County draft board.

Those men previously ordered to report for preinduction physical examination on July 23 will not be required to report. Those ordered for induction will be forwarded, as scheduled. They are Woodrow Burgess, Jr., Eddie Wilkerson and James J. Ernst.

Aliens who enter the United States for seasonal or temporary employment will be issued Form 1-94, Examination Record, by the Immigration and Naturalization Service and this card shall serve to identify such aliens as persons not required to register.

A slight change has been made in regulations governing eligibility for dependency deferment. Registrants will be deferred from induction into the Armed Forces if their induction would result in extreme hardship to persons dependent on them for support.

Formerly induction had to cause both extreme hardship and extreme privation to dependents in order to entitle registrants to dependency deferment.

The Department of Defense has issued a call for 11,000 men to be inducted in August, all for the Army. The call is a cut of 2,000 below the July figure. Milam County's share of this quota is three men for induction on August 21. Orders will be issued about August 1.
